

Olivebioteq - 2011

Engineer Mohamed El-Kholy, AARENINA Olive Network focal point in Egypt represented AARINENA in the Olivebioteq - 2011 which was held from 31 October to 4 November 2011 in Chania, Crete-Greece. The 4th Conference aimed to promote scientists, technicians, students but also managers, exporters and policy makers to exchange their own experiences in the olive sector and start to cooperate for a new, sustainable and profitable olive industry around the world, as well as to extend the results of this exchange to the professionals to improve the environmental and economic sustainability of the olive industry. Eng. El-Kholy presented a paper on Rejuvenating High Density irrigated olive tress (Olea europaea, L.) under Egyptian Arid Condition.